

Restorital (TB2R4)

'Total Brain & Body Restoration-Regeneration'

A Researched Scientific Evidence Based Physiologic Recovery Program for Total Health & Wellness

RESTORE & REPAIR FULL BRAIN & BODY FUNCTION

Naturally, Safely, Effectively & Quickly!

The (TB2R4) Reparative and Restorative Process is a New Safe, Effective, Innovative, Revolutionary and Proven approach to Advanced Medical IV Bio-Nutrition and Replacement Hydration for all Health & Wellness Patients at any Level of Competition as well as in healthy individuals to promote OPTIMUM Health and Wellness.

The (TB2R4) Reparative and Restorative Process is 'Drug Free-All Natural'

approach to medical health and wellness through IV MicroNutrient in very specific brain and body formulas for Medical Bio-Nutritional & Hydration Replacement.

These concepts and results are not new and have been used for years in the healthcare community to improve the health and wellness of the brain and body to work at its most optimum levels Physiologically.

The new approach is in the Specific Formulas and Treatment Plans and is now considered a groundbreaking treatment medical approach for Health & Wellness recovery, focus and optimum performance and is being used in addition to eliminate cravings and detox the tissues in just a few days verses months or years.

"The scientific medical infusion approach

Restoritral (TB2R4)

is a revolutionary method healing the brain and bodies of All Health & Wellness Patients and has even saved countless lives in where it is being successfully used in later term addicted mothers, who are giving birth to completely normal babies!"

"The scientific clinical approach has been transformative to IV MicroNutrient & Hydration Replacement that Olympic Teams use for Health & Wellness to "Bring Immediate Recovery to Bring Peak Optimal Performance Mentally and Physically!"

And, Most Amazingly, the process comes in a just a few hours of infusion, optimizing overall performance and promotes:

'ALL NATURAL'

Overall Total Brain & Body Health & Wellness!

Restorital (TB2R4)

'Total Brain & Body Restoration-Regeneration' THE OUTCOMES PROVE THE BIOTECHNOLOGY!

The (TB2R4) Reparative and Restorative Process has thousands of positive outcome testimonials as well as comprehensive lab testing for and in validated brain scan imaging providing evidence-based proof of concepts and reproducible long term positive outcomes as well as continuous evidence base for the safety and efficacy for the medical community!

"The (TB2R4) Reparative and Restorative Process has been shown to be safe and efficacious providing reproducible results in all ages, genders, pathologies and physiologies!"

"The (TB2R4) Reparative and Restorative Process has shown to be safe and efficacious through evidence-based research practices to rapidly reduce cravings in 98% of the case, even after one treatment!"

This Novel and Well Recognized Methodology which has been used for over 15 years and is a life-saving physiologic and neurotherapeutic intervention designed to rapidly assist the addicted body and brain in the physical restoration process by restoring neuroreceptor and neurotransmitter functioning back to normal baseline levels in days verse months to years, and in some cases, never!

Once the body's neuroreceptor and neurotransmitter functions have been healed back to its native and natural state, the patient's cravings, anxiety, and depression are dramatically reduced by over 95% and most times eliminated. This allows the clinical and medical team to remediate underlying physical conditions that have led to the specific substance abuse history.

'Those of US with High Functioning, High Output Lifestyles' in cases for those with drugs and alcohol abuse damage in their histories where the Brain and Body are worn out then and damaged due to long term, high outputs with sustained large amounts of naturally and artificially occurring neurotransmitter levels in extremely high amounts which negatively damage and change tissue biology and neurobiology of regions found to be responsible for poor health and aging! And, With continuous artificial, highly concentrated toxic substances, normal deep mid brain region neurotransmitters and neuroreceptors are eventually worn out and altered causing the need for the sustained, increased substance abuse creating biochemical dependence, tolerance, and withdrawal!

In cases of the addicted brain, when an addict cuts down or stops using substances completely, their neuroreceptors and neurotransmitters need to heal which requires the right environment and nutrients, or they will continue with their negative addictive actions and behaviors such as; anxiety, depression, helplessness, hopelessness, emptiness, physical & psychic pain, lack of motivation and criminal behavior!

Understanding

The (TB2R4) Reparative and Restorative Process:

“Why does the brain & body not recover completely and promptly on its own, as the body heals from a sunburn, for example?”

The reason for this incomplete healing process is that the brain and our body tissues are carefully crafted and trained for balance over many years of growth, development, training and conditioning which tends to wear itself out, age and struggle to perform. And, as we grow and develop, our bodies and brains are not designed for long term high output toxic radical forming environmental exposure unless you can replace, repair, restore, regenerate and rejuvenate your body and brain to its native, cleanest, high-performance levels Physiologically!

Restorital (TB2R4)

'Total Brain & Body Restoration-Regeneration'

It is not surprising that our lifestyles and most of our foods and environmental toxins create oxidative stress which damages, destroys and ages our body and brain tissues. Any toxic substances, especially at high or sustained amounts alters and changes our normal biochemical physiology. When this continued biochemical injury or insult occurs, our body's' and brain's do not naturally have the necessary repair materials to heal quickly and effectively as well as in the proper concentrations and purities needed to complete the healing restorative process.

So, when this genetically determined, specific and elementally fastidious environment is in need, then very specific and customized regimens are required to reach safe, effective, positive baseline and in most cases better than baseline results are achieved naturally, safely and quickly at the molecular and cellular level deep in the primitive brain structures and deep organ tissues!

The approach in providing direct, exact and carefully titrated individual and specific nutrients to the damaged body tissues and brain regions is crucial in achieving long term success in Health & Wellness brain and body physiologic recovery similar to how the skin heals from a burn with proper natural nutrient environment coupled with medical oversight, protection and control!

This groundbreaking approach and procedure has proven to be a safe and effective method to assist the body and brain in repairing the damage done by drugs (illegal or prescription), alcohol, marijuana, nicotine and other mental and behavioral health disorders such as anxiety, depression and other related mood disorders!

Additionally, when The (TB2R4) Reparative and Restorative Process is integrated with proper licensed mental and behavioral health professionals for cognitive behavioral restructuring, the long term positive outcomes and relief from mental health diagnoses can be treated more effectively and then reinforced;

The (TB2R4) Reparative Restorative Process HISTORY

The (TB2R4) Reparative and Restorative Process was pioneered by PhD Biochemists and Board Certified Physicians with over 20 years of intensive research and testing with thousands of patients.

Licensed Board Certified Physicians trained in the Many Different Disciplines have been treating patients with The (TB2R4) Reparative and Restorative Process showing amazing long term positive outcomes with this New and Innovative Comprehensive and Integrated Healthcare Model in the Mental and Behavioral Addiction Space since 2003.

Licensed Board-Certified Physicians and his colleagues have provided FDA approved NeuroGuide Brain Map Imaging to provide grounded evidence base principles and practice methodology to the treatment protocols.

'The (TB2R4) Reparative and Restorative Process has been shown on SPECT brain scans in this New and Innovative Safe and Effective Revolutionary Process and Procedure as evidenced by brain scan images taken before and after treatment, to promptly bring about significant improvement in function in the drug-damaged brain in the addicted brain.'

'Total Brain & Body Restoration-Regeneration'

The (TB2R4) Reparative and Restorative Process, Procedure, Plan & Protocol is administered as a daily intravenous solution for 3 to 4 hours per day each during competition days being closely monitored and charted by a seasoned veteran medical teams.

The process, procedure and protocols for each patient follow strict medical and scientific methodology under proper medical supervision by licensed, certified and well-trained staff. All staff follow and adhere to strict best practice standards, controls and CMS guidelines and compliances.

This prolonged exposure to specific micronutrients, cofactors, NAD and amino acids naturally bathes tired, high performance damaged deep body tissues as well as the brains deep involuntary cognitive brain structures in the central nervous system with an abundance of specific and individual repair and restoration materials.

Compound Formulations

There are 7 different intravenous formulas available, consisting of unique combinations that are specifically designed to directly assist the central nervous system in replacing and repairing cells, organs, tissues, biochemical reactions and optimal physiological functioning.

All of the components of the micronutrient compounds have been tested for quality and purity and safety and reviewed by the FDA through for safety and efficacy and are all FDA APPROVED for Compounding and Third Party Reviewed for potency and sterility.

The specific (TB2R4) Reparative and Restorative MicroNutrient Compounds as well as the Process, Procedure and Protocols are: Proprietary and Intellectually Protected by USPTO Trademark & Patent.
